

Doxis solution suite for supplier management & P2P processes

Doxis Intelligent Purchase-to-Pay Automation

Purchase-to-pay processes contribute significantly to business growth, if they are managed effectively. If Production, Purchasing, Accounting and suppliers are not working together seamlessly, and if information is not getting to the people who need it, then the risk of making poor decisions and losing money increases. The result: miscalculated buying prices hurt margins and liquidity planning gets a lot more unpredictable. To avoid this, all P2P players need to be connected and relevant information needs to be made available and automated across the purchase-to-pay process. The AI-powered Doxis solution suite provides the path forward here.
